BULLYING POLICY

INTRODUCTION

Radio 2XX believes that all people should work in an environment free from bullying.

Radio 2XX understands that bullying at the station is a threat to the health and wellbeing of its volunteers, employees and listeners.

Accordingly, Radio 2XX is committed to eliminating, so far as is reasonably practicable, all forms of bullying at the station by maintaining a culture of openness, support, and accountability.

PURPOSE

The purpose of this document is to communicate that Radio 2XX does not tolerate any form of bullying by volunteers or employees and to set out the process which is to be followed should any instances of bullying be reported.

DEFINITIONS

“Bullying” is repeated and unreasonable behaviour directed towards a person or group of persons that creates a risk to health and safety. It includes behaviour that could be expected to intimidate, offend, degrade, humiliate, undermine or threaten.

“Repeated behaviour” refers to the persistent nature of the behavior and can involve a range of behaviours over time.

“Unreasonable behaviour” is behaviour that a reasonable person, having considered the circumstances would see as unreasonable, including behavior that is victimising, humiliating, intimidating or threatening.

Examples of behavior, whether intentional or unintentional, that may be considered to be bullying if they are repeated, unreasonable and create a risk to health and safety include but are not limited to:

The material provided in this resource has been prepared to provide general information only. It is not intended to be relied upon or be a substitute for legal or other professional advice. No responsibility can be accepted by the author(s) or Our Community or its partners for any known or unknown consequences that may result from reliance on any information provided in this publication.

- abusive, insulting or offensive language or comments
- unjustified criticism or complaints
- deliberately excluding someone from 2XX activities
- withholding information that is vital for effective performance
- setting unreasonable timelines or constantly changing deadlines
- setting tasks that are unreasonably below or beyond a person's skill level
- denying access to information, supervision, consultation or resources to the detriment of the volunteer or employee
- spreading misinformation or malicious rumours
- changing arrangements such as rosters and leave to deliberately inconvenience a particular volunteer or employees or volunteers or employees.

Bullying can be carried out in a variety of ways including through email, text or social media channels.

Bullying can occur between volunteers/workers (sideways), from a manager to volunteers/workers (downwards), or volunteers/workers to a manager (upwards).

Reasonable management action is not considered to be bullying if it is carried out lawfully and in a reasonable manner in the circumstances. Examples of reasonable management action include but are not limited to:

- setting reasonable performance goals, standards and deadlines
- deciding not to select a volunteer/worker for a position where a reasonable process is followed
- informing a volunteer/worker about unsatisfactory work performance in an honest, fair and constructive way
- taking disciplinary action, including suspension or terminating volunteer opportunities or employment.

Differences of opinion and disagreements are generally not considered to be bullying.

Bullying that directly inflicts physical pain, harm, or humiliation amounts to assault and should be dealt with as a police matter (see below).

POLICY

Radio 2XX has a duty of care to provide a safe environment, and ensure, so far as is reasonably practicable, that volunteers/workers and other people are not exposed to health and safety risks.

Radio 2XX accepts and acts on its duty of care and any reported allegations of workplace bullying will be promptly, thoroughly, and fairly investigated.

Bullying complaints will be handled in a confidential and procedurally fair manner. Where confidentiality cannot be guaranteed this will be clearly communicated to the relevant parties.

Policies can be established or altered only by the Board: Procedures may be altered by the CEO.

BULLYING PROCEDURES

RESPONSIBILITIES

It is the obligation and responsibility of every person to ensure that the station is free from bullying. The responsibility lies with the station manager and every volunteer and employee to ensure that bullying does not occur at the station.

All volunteers and employees have:

- an entitlement to work in a safe and healthy environment and to be treated with dignity and respect
- an entitlement to make a complaint in respect of any bullying behaviour
- a responsibility to take reasonable care for their own health and safety
- a responsibility to ensure they do not promote or engage in bullying and otherwise take reasonable care that their acts or omissions do not adversely affect the health and safety of other people
- a responsibility to co-operate and comply with this policy and any other relevant policy.

It is the responsibility of the station manager to ensure that:

- they understand, and are committed to, the right of all volunteers and employees to attend work and perform their duties without fear of being bullied in any form
- all reasonable steps to eliminate bullying are made so far as is reasonably practicable
- all applicable occupational health and safety legislation is observed
- all volunteers and employees are regularly educated and made aware of their obligations and responsibilities in relation to providing a station free from bullying
- they provide an environment which discourages bullying, and set an example by their own behaviour
- all complaints are treated seriously and confidentially
- they are as far as practicable aware of whether bullying is occurring, whether complaints are received or not, relying on such indices as:
 - sudden increases in absenteeism
 - behavioural changes such as depression
 - sudden deterioration in work performance

Policies can be established or altered only by the Board: Procedures may be altered by the CEO.

- they take immediate and appropriate action if they become aware of any bullying or offensive behaviour
- any reported allegations of bullying at the station are promptly, thoroughly, and fairly investigated
- guidance and education is provided, where requested and/or appropriate, to cases and subsequent decisions relating to bullying
- ongoing support and guidance is provided to management, volunteers and employees in relation to the prevention of bullying
- this policy is publicised at the station and easily accessible to all volunteers/workers.

PROCEDURES

Complaints Procedures

If a volunteer or employee feels comfortable in doing so, it is preferable to raise the issue with the person directly with a view to resolving the issue by discussion. The employee or volunteer should identify the offensive behaviour, explain that the behaviour is unwelcome and offensive and ask that the behaviour stops.

If the behaviour continues, or if the volunteer or employee feels unable to speak to the person(s) directly, they should contact the station manager or a Board member. The manager or Board member will provide support and ascertain the nature of the complaint.

Informal Intervention

The station manager or Board member will explain the rights and responsibilities of the volunteer or employee under the relevant policy and procedures.

Informal intervention may be done through a process of either mediation or conciliation. During informal intervention the respondent will be made aware of the allegations being made against them and given the right to respond. Interventions at this stage should adopt a confidential, non-confrontational approach with a view to resolving the issue.

This procedure will be complete when the alleged harasser respects the individual's request to cease unwanted and unwelcome behaviour, or when the complainant accepts that the behaviour is not properly described as bullying. If neither of these outcomes occurs, the organisation's formal procedure should be followed.

Formal Complaints Procedure

The formal complaint procedure involves a formal investigation of the complaint. Formal investigations may be conducted internally (by the station manager or a Board member appointed by the Board) or by an external investigator.

Policies can be established or altered only by the Board: Procedures may be altered by the CEO.

DISCLAIMER: While all care has been taken in the preparation of this material, no responsibility is accepted by the author(s) or Our Community, its staff, volunteers or partners, for any errors, omissions or inaccuracies. The material provided in this resource has been prepared to provide general information only. It is not intended to be relied upon or be a substitute for legal or other professional advice. No responsibility can be accepted by the author(s) or Our Community or its partners for any known or unknown consequences that may result from reliance on any information provided in this publication.

An investigation involves collecting information about the complaint and then making a finding based on the available information as to whether or not the alleged behaviour occurred. Once a finding is made, the investigator will make recommendations about resolving the complaint.

The investigator may need to interview the parties involved (which may include the complainant, the respondent, and any witnesses) to obtain information regarding the complaint. The investigator will comprehensively and accurately document all information obtained during the interviews including the parties involved, timing, location, and nature of conduct complained against.

If the investigator considers it appropriate for the safe and efficient conduct of an investigation, 2XX participants may be stood down from volunteer opportunities or employment or provided with alternative duties during an investigation in which case they will be paid their normal pay during any such period.

Throughout the investigation process, all parties involved in the investigation will be regularly kept informed about the investigation.

The findings as to whether bullying has occurred will be determined on the basis of the evidence, and on the balance of probabilities.

On the basis of the findings, possible outcomes of the investigation may include, but will not be limited to, any combination of the following:

- Counselling
- Disciplinary action (including and up to termination of volunteer opportunities or employment)
- Official warning
- Formal apology and/or an undertaking that the behaviour will cease
- Mediation where the parties to the complaint agree to a mutually acceptable resolution.

On completion of the investigation, all parties will be informed about the investigation findings and the outcome of the investigation.

Following an investigation concerning a bullying complaint (irrespective of the findings), the station manager will:

- consult with the parties involved to monitor the situation and their wellbeing; and
- educate and remind all volunteers and employees of their obligations and responsibilities in relation to providing a workplace free from bullying

Procedures for Dealing with Criminal Conduct

Some forms of severe bullying (physical attack, for example, or obscene phone calls) may constitute criminal conduct. While Radio 2XX is committed to treat most complaints about bullying at an organisational level as far as possible, this type of conduct is not suited to internal resolution. Such complaints should be treated by the criminal justice system. Volunteers or employees should be advised of the option of police support or intervention. It is not the obligation or duty of the organisation to report such matters to the police on behalf of the complainant.

Policies can be established or altered only by the Board: Procedures may be altered by the CEO.
